FAMINE FUND CONCERT.

The net proceeds of this entertainment amount to $500.

The free use of the Opers House was kindly given by Messis, Paul Fourchy and G. W. Nott, of the Merchants' Mutual Insurance Company.

The newspapers—the Picayune, Times, Democrat and Moraing Star—in which the notices appeared, donated the amount of their respective bills to the cause.

Mr. A. Weber also donated the entire amount due him for bill posting service and the distribution of "dedges."

Prof. H. A. Blake, for the direction of the Concort, and his gifted sons for the perfection of their secting, are entitled to respectful consideration, as are also the many ladies and gentlemen who so ably assisted on the occasion.

Major T. O'Nelll, always and everywhere popular, was heard with rapt attention in the recitation of "Erice Fasi" and "Foutenoy."

The following named gentlemen, in their seal for the success of the enterprise, exerted a widespread influence for the sale of tickets, and themselves purchased so largely as to make the success reached due in the main to them; M. P. Walsh, Patrick Mullen, Philip Filogatrick, J. H. O'Oonnor, John Wallace and Mr. Olery, of Carroliton.

R. B. UNIMENT OF THE DEAYMEN'S ASSO-

A CARD PROR THE DRAYMEN'S ASSO

At a meeting of the Draymen's Association held on Saturday, March 27, it was agreed to adopt the following rates for draying cotton for the ensuing year, beginning September 1 for the ensuing year, beginning September 1, 1880;

All cotton drayed to ship or railroad for shipment, 20 cents per bale.
All cotton drayed from levee or railroads, not less than it cents per bale to presses convenient to the landings, not more than 17 cents to the presses farthest situated.
They claim that it is innessible for them to dray the cotton at the present raiss, with justice to themselves, owing to the increased values of everything necessary for the transaction of their business, the demands of their drivers and laborers for an increase of weg. 3, the bad condition of the streets and landings, and the limited room on the levee during the busy season is the cause of great delay, entailing additional expense.
Disclaiming any intention of adding a butthen on commerce direumstances makes it burthen on commerce, droumstances makes in imperative on them to call the attention of the cotton press interest to their inability to contract for the ensuing year, except at the above rates, more especially on account of the unset tled condition of labor.
